Consultation and Dispute Resolution

8. Consultation

8.1. This clause applies if the employer:

a) has made a definite decision to introduce major change to curriculum, organisation, or technology in relation to its enterprise that is likely to have a significant effect on the employees; or

b) proposes to introduce a change to the regular roster or ordinary hours of work of employees.

Major change

8.2. For a major change referred to in 8.1.a):

a) the employer must notify the relevant employees of the decision to introduce the major change; and

b) subclauses 8.3 to 8.8 apply.

8.3. The relevant employees may appoint a representative for the purposes of the procedures in this clause. The employee/s are required to advise the employer of the identity of the representative.

8.4. As soon as practicable after making its decision, the employer must:

a) discuss with the relevant employees:

i. the introduction of the change; and

ii. the effect the change is likely to have on the employees; and

iii. measures to avert or mitigate the adverse effect of the change on the employees; and

b) for the purposes of the discussion—provide, in writing, to the relevant employees:

i. all relevant information about the change including the nature of the change proposed; and

ii. information about the expected effects of the change on the employees; and

iii. any other matters likely to affect the employees.
8.5. However, the employer is not required to disclose confidential or commercially sensitive information to the relevant employees.

8.6. The employer must give prompt and genuine consideration to matters raised about the major change by the relevant employees. For the purpose of this clause, the parties adopt the following comments made by Smith C. in CPSU, the Community and Public Sector Union v Vodafone Network Pty Ltd (Print PR911257) “Consultation is not perfunctory advise on what is about to happen. This is a common misconception. Consultation is providing the individual, or other relevant persons with a bona fide opportunity to influence the decision maker… Consultation is not joint decision-making or even a negative or frustrating barrier to the prerogative of management to make decisions. Consultation allows the decision making process to be informed, particularly as it may affect the employment prospects of individuals”.

8.7. If a clause in this Agreement provides for a major change to production, program, organisation, structure or technology in relation to the Enterprise of the employer, the requirements set out in paragraph 8.2.a) and subclauses 8.3 and 8.4 are taken not to apply.

8.8. In this clause, a major change is likely to have a significant effect on employees if it would result in:

a) the termination of the employment of employees; or

b) major change to the composition, operation or size of the employer’s workforce or to the skills required of employees; or

c) the elimination or diminution of job opportunities (including opportunities for promotion or tenure); or

d) the alteration of hours of work; or

e) the need to retrain employees; or

f) the need to relocate employees to another workplace (except within existing Hester Hornbrook Academy Ltd classrooms); or

g) the restructuring of jobs.

8.9. Major change likely to result in redundancy is also addressed in clause 47.
Change to regular roster or ordinary hours of work

8.10. For a change referred to in 8.1.b):
   a) the employer must notify the relevant employees of the proposed change; and
   b) subclauses 8.3 to 8.8 apply.

8.11. For the purposes of clause 8.10, the employer’s educational timetable in respect of academic classes and student activities, which:
   a) may operate on a term, semester or a school year basis; and,
   b) ordinarily changes between one period of operation and the next; and,
   c) may change during the period of operation;
   is not a regular roster.

9. Dispute resolution

9.1. If a dispute relates to:
   a) a matter arising under the Agreement; or
   b) the National Employment Standards; this clause sets out procedures to settle the dispute.

9.2. An employee who is a party to the dispute may appoint a representative for the purposes of the procedures in this clause.

9.3. In the first instance, the parties to the dispute should try to resolve the dispute at the workplace level, through discussions between the employee or employees and relevant supervisors and/or management.

9.4. If discussions at the workplace level do not resolve the dispute, the parties may involve more senior management and representatives to seek to resolve the dispute.

9.5. If discussions at the workplace level do not resolve the dispute, a party to the dispute may refer the matter to the Fair Work Commission.

9.6. The Fair Work Commission may deal with the dispute in 2 stages:
   a) the Fair Work Commission will first attempt to resolve the dispute as it considers appropriate, including by mediation, conciliation, expressing an opinion or making a recommendation; and

b) if the Fair Work Commission is unable to resolve the dispute at the first stage, the Fair Work Commission may then:

i. arbitrate the dispute; and

ii. make a determination that is binding on the parties.

Note: If Fair Work Commission arbitrates the dispute, it may also use the powers that are available to it under the Act.

9.7. A decision that Fair Work Commission makes when arbitrating a dispute is a decision for the purpose of Div 3 of Part 5.1 of the Act. Therefore, an appeal may be made against the decision.

9.8. While the parties are trying to resolve the dispute using the procedures in this clause:

a) an employee must continue to perform his or her work as he or she would normally unless he or she has a reasonable concern about an imminent risk to his or her health or safety; and

b) an employee must comply with a reasonable direction given by the employer to perform other available work at the same workplace, or at another workplace, unless:

i. the work is not safe; or

ii. applicable occupational health and safety legislation would not permit the work to be performed; or

iii. the work is not appropriate for the employee to perform; or

iv. there are other reasonable grounds for the employee to refuse to comply with the direction.
